Persönlicher Beitrag für die Graduate School / Personal Contribution to Graduate School
Motivation:	UBTGS is a valuable resource for doctoral candidates, especially new ones. I wish to support that and help to enhance it. I feel that working on an PhD is full of challenges that are faced far easier when you're not alone. Therefore, personal and academic exchange between doctoral candidates is essential. I already have experiences in academic exchange for PhD candidates because I founded and co-organize a legal PhD peer colloquium at UBT. I'd be happy to work on such exchanges within the UBTGS. Also, a part of the difficulties we face are obstacles on a structural level within the university policy. Doctoral candidates need to represent their interests united and consequently in order to be heard, a task which I'm willing to engage in.
Ideen / Ideas:	First of all, I'd like to ensure that every PhD student knows about UBTGS and its benefits. Next, I plan to keep up and enhance possibilities for socializing, such as the Stammtisch or other forms of get-togethers. And I think it would be great to create room for inter-disciplinary academic exchange formats if that is wished for by the doctoral candidates. That would also include making inter-disciplinary formats that already exist better known within the UBTGS.
